RIOJA, SPAIN - BODEGAS RODA

The harvest started in mid-september, with the crop looking healthy and with good yields, so the technical team are happy for now! There are still a couple more weeks of harvesting to go. A week into the harvest the "Perdigon" vineyard was picked, the grapes from which are used to make Sela.

"Perdigon" vineyard, the town of Haro is visible in the background.

Good yields so far for the 2015 vintage

Tempranillo vine between 15 and 30 years old ready to be picked.

The Harvest team hard at work!
